$100,000 Strathmore Fire :-: Stampede Big Success

Half of Strathmore's Business Section Burns

$100,000 Blaze Destroys Half of Strathmore Business Section — Little Insurance Carried

Calgary Brigade Assists Local Fire-fighters

On Thursday, July 10th, the residents of Strathmore were called out by the fire alarm to fight a fire which originated in a back room of the Opera House. Although many were on the scene within a short time, the fire gradually took a firm hold on the buildings, and in a few hours had completely wiped out half the business section.

Stove Explodes

The fire started in the upper floor of the Masonic Hall, where the janitor was using an old oil stove to heat water in preparation for an entertainment planned later in the evening. The stove exploded, throwing the burning kerosene over the floor of the dried-out building, and in a few seconds it was a mass of flames. Aided by a high wind, the flames spread rapidly through the building, and a drug store adjoining was soon burning also. The other buildings which took fire were situated across the street, the flames jumping across the street without difficulty.

The Calgary department prevented the spreading of the flames after its arrival, and after a hard fight got the blaze under control.

No person was injured as a result of the fire.

Flames Jump the Street

The flames leaped the street and wiped out the Strathmore Pharmacy, George Snaith, butcher; White's Garage, M. B. Garrett's grocery store, and Fred Cott's butcher shop.

The local firemen and volunteers worked desperately, but the wind and water shortage were hard to overcome. The Calgary squad came when the water pressure was exhausted and pumped from the C.P.R. artificial lake.

A lumber yard, the old Maple Leaf hotel and Sid Hyde's residence were threatened and the firemen managed to beat out the flames.

Calgary Sends Aid

When it was found that there was no chance of getting the fire under control a hurried call was sent in to Calgary. Assistant Fire Chief "Sanzy" Carr with seven men and the pumping engine and 1,500 feet of hose from No. 2 fire station arriving here at 7 o'clock.

When the department arrived the flames had made considerable headway in the Strathmore Hardware store and the Massey-Harris implement building. In a few minutes the Calgary department had two streams of water trained on the flames and succeeded in extinguishing the flames in both these buildings. It was necessary to pump the water from the artificial lake near the C.P.R. station.

A Hard Fight

It was not until four hours later that the flames were under control. The Calgary department returned to the city at 2 o'clock Friday morning, leaving a small hose stream controlling the embers.

Business Men Burned Out

The following is a list of the business men who have been burned out: J. Haarseth, confectioner; Drs. Girvin and Giffen, physicians; Dr. L. G. Robinson, dentist; T. M. Wears, barrister; T. H. Eves, implement dealer; Fred Cott, butcher; M. B. Garrett, grocer; White & Son, Ford dealers; Geo. Snaith, butcher; H. McKechnie & Son, druggists; Massey-Harris implement Shed, E. W. R. Lambert, drug stock.

While the loss is estimated around $100,000, the insurance carried by most of the businesses was very light, in two cases no insurance being carried.

However, unhampered by the catastrophe, most of the merchants intend to rebuild, and in the meantime are located as follows: Dr. Girvin, Dr. Robinson and T. M. Wears, are located in the old A.P.P. place, next to telephone office; Fred Cott, butcher, in the old jewelry store in the King Edward hotel building; Geo. Snaith, next door to Barber & Craddock; E. W. R. Lambert in Saunders Harness shop; the Strathmore Pharmacy in east side of the Strathmore Hardware Co.'s store; White's Garage in the old Maple Leaf building; J. Haarseth in the Strathmore Hotel building, and Dr. Giffen in the W. C. Brown residence. At present M. B. Garrett has not located.

Good Work by Women

Too much praise cannot be given to the women for their heroic efforts in assisting the local fire-fighters to fight the flames. Elderly women, young women, in fact women of every age, were to be seen hurrying with pails of water or assisting in saving the stock of the different stores. They, no doubt, put many of the idle men to shame.

Assistance from C.P.R.

Assistance was given by the C.P.R., which proved very valuable, though a little too late in starting the pump at the lake to avert the disaster. With their assistance and the Calgary brigade, the fire was kept from spreading.

Calgary Brigade Treated Well

The members of the department were well treated by the mayor and citizens of Strathmore, who did everything possible to give what assistance they could. After they had completed their work the mayor saw to it that they were provided with new boots and dry clothing, which was greatly appreciated.

War On Pests

The competition inaugurated by the Department of Agriculture in the shooting of crows and magpies in order that these pests may be reduced, has created keen interest. There are now 415 schools competing in the contests as well as many individuals, clubs, etc. The competition closes September 1 but individuals, clubs, etc, will be credited with points in their particular competitions, if the records are received before September 1st. The reports are that there already has been a notable reduction in the number of crows in the province. Many municipalities have included the crows in the bounty they offer for destruction of pests.

Carseland Center-shots

Those who read the Calgary Herald and have been following the Olympic games in France, will notice in the July 12th issue that H. A. One of Its Dangers

Strathmore Holds Annual Stampede

Immense Crowds Attend the Big Day of Western Sports At Strathmore Wednesday.

Dance Breaks All Records — 450 In Attendance

The Strathmore Stampede has, this year, proved a great success. Being under the auspices of the local G.W.V.A. it attracted thousands from all parts of the country, who were willing to aid the Memorial Hall Fund, and at the same time enjoy a big day of Western Sports.

The bucking events were of the best, such reputable broncbes as "Midnight" "Tumbleweed," "Peacock," and "Whiskey Creek," were all very much in evidence by their fierceness and determination to throw their riders. These horses were amongst the best buckers of the Calgary Stampede. Many celebrated riders as Pete Knight, Charles McDonld, and Neil Campbell were here to try for the prize money.

Well Supported

The town supported the veterans with a single-heartedness and unity and the snap and dash of the ambitious program was achieved by a local committee of extraordinary ex-

Fred Cott managed the whole show from the big noon parade to the last item on the stampede programme, and L. B. O. Lodmell took care of the secretarial details, while P. C. Nalsmith sweltered in the seclusion of a ringside tent, counting the gate of over $1,600, running the treasury of the refreshment booths ,and sideshows, paying prize money to the Indians on demand and keeping the business end in order. Thos. E. Wright, as the chairman, seemed to have the assistance of a countless committee of business men and farmers all over the place, with George Jones laboring as the field secretary and time keeper, and Bob Anderson acted as megaphone man. W. Knyvett was the official starter. The manager selected the judges for the bucking events as follows: Charles Hartel, of Cheade, Carl Brown, of Rockyford, and W. W. Brown, of Gleichen.

Although the stampede was held in an open field with no plant or facilities, the "Vets" provided unexpected comforts in the matter of meals, refreshments and hospitality on the grounds, with the assistance of the Ladies Guild.

Successful Parade

The parade which started from the Memorial Hall at 12:30, was a very dazzling affair. A fancy decorated float carried Strathmore's brass band at the head of the procession, followed by cowboys and cowgirls.

Slim Moorehouse with his spectacular wheat-hauling team bringing up the rear amid the cheers of the "Rubbernecks" of the district to whom he typified the contemporary order. Later in the day "Slim" tried his hand with a lariat—but his friends advised him to keep to the wagon. "Slim" drives horses better than he ropes calves.

Then, he had difficulty in finding a mount tall enough. He compromised on an "old grey mare" for which the song was probably named, and was the focus of most of the cameras on the grounds.

A single touch of sophistication was injected into the parade by J. L. Crisco, a cowboy from Chipman, Alberta, who chose to spend the afternoon in burnt cork, entertaining the crowd to an immensely funny Alberta version of the circus clown.

A Famous Trio

When the bucking broncbos began to plunge out of the chutes, wise people asked what sort of animals could be in Edmonton, for the cream of the Calgary show were obviously in the corrals at the cowboys' family party in our town. And they put up a wonderful show. Pete Knight, won on "Weasel," Charles McDonald came second on "Whiskey Creek" in his worst moments, and Neil Campbell rode "Tumbleweed" in spectacular fashion for third. The crowd rather thought McDonald had the best of the contest.

Rides Through Hotel

In the morning, Fred Cott, Stampede manager, created much excitement when he rode through the King Edward hotel. "Buck", his famous mount, seemed to actually enjoy this in-and-out game as much as his rider.

Huge Crowd at Dance

The local veterans staged, what is undoubtedly the most successful dance in the history of Strathmore.

The Memorial Hall was packed to overflowing, more than four hundred being in attendance.

Mrs. Trainor's four-piece orchestra surpassed all its former efforts in supplying excellent music.

At 3 a.m. the crowd dispersed, unanimously agreeing that it was the greatest day ever.

Coming Events

An Ice Cream Social will be held by the Tudor W.F.W.A. on Wednesday, July 30th, to commence at 7.30 at the Tudor Hall. 16-7-u

Trade Possibilities in the Orient

—o—

That there are possibilities of trade for Alberta in Japan in livestock and other products is the declaration of H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who returned the past week, after superintending a trial shipment of cattle from this Province to Japan.

Mr. Craig made a thorough investigation into market possibilities there, and finds that there is considerable demand for beef cattle, and also for wool, barley, timothy seed, hides, wheat, flour, lumber, butter and cheese. The trial shipment of cattle was not profitable owing to high charges attendant upon transportation of the cattle, which amounted practically to $100 a head, but Mr. Craig, on his return to Vancouver, was able to obtain from shipping interests, promise of a rate that would cut the charges practically in half. Under these conditions, Mr. Craig believes that a steadily growing and profitable trade in cattle can be built up.

ONE OF NATURE'S WONDERS

The Devil's Potholes

Entrance to Cave, Maligne Canyon

The Canyon in Winter

MALIGNE CANYON, in Jasper National Park is one of the natural wonders of the entire Rocky Mountain region. A vast cleft in the solid rock, reaching a depth of some 200 feet, and so narrow in places that one may step across it easily, draws from the tourist expressions of awe and wonder at the power of accumulated forces of water

Tumbling headlong down the narrow gorge goes the Maligne River, mysterious as to its source and for part of its length a subterranean stream, on its way to join the quieter waters of the Athabasca far below. At times on its passage through the narrow gorge, it tumbles more than one hundred feet in a sheer drop, its eddies being churned to foam as the waters beat a tattoo against the rocky sides of the canyon on their downward leap.

From the footbridges which span the narrow gash in the solid rock, tourists watch entranced the effect of the waters on the rocky sides. Here and there, seemingly tired of the effort to stand upright through the centuries, the sides of the gorge appear to have leaned toward one another, until an intervening rock cast itself into the narrow space and held the walls apart. Trunks of trees and jutting rocks form footbridges across the chasm a hundred feet below the tourists' feet, as they stand admiring the glint of the noon-day sun upon the falling water.

Maligne Canyon is a mecca for visitors to Jasper Park Lodge, the splendid log-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways, and rightly so, for there are few natural rock formations to equal in interest those found in the canyon

The Devil's Potholes, curious indentations in the solid rock over which the Maligne River flowed before the Canyon was worn to its present depth, are holes worn deep in the surface rock by the action of swirling flood waters, when a large stone has been whirled round and round in an untiring circle until the stone itself was worn small and round, and deep circular holes have been ground into the surface of the rock, remaining as mute testimony to the power of rushing waters.

Maligne Canyon, while one of the most wonderful formations to be found in the Rocky Mountains, is but one of the many natural attractions of Jasper National Park In addition there are the snow-capped peaks on every side; the glaciers of Mount Edith Cavell and the mountains surrounding Maligne Lake, the Hoodoos of the Cavell motor highway and hundreds of others. Wild animal life is abundant, and the calm peace of the out-of-doors is assured to the tired holiday-seeker.

And in addition to the natural beauties of the Park, a magnificent log cabin bungalow hotel; with excellent cuisine and all the comforts of the modern city hotel, provides a starting point from which parties may radiate by motor or pack-horse or afoot to travel by motor road or pack trail into the very heart of the wilderness. It was the addition of the comforts and conveniences of Jasper Park Lodge to the beauties of Jasper National Park which caused one noted American traveller to exclaim: "At last, I have found the place, where God and man go fifty-fifty to produce perfection."

JAIL HELD NO TERROR FOR THIS JOURNALIST

"A CONFIDENCE is a confidence and therefore, inviolable," is the theory in life of Ralph L. King, city editor of the Waukegan, (Ill.) Daily Sun. And in defense of that opinion, he gladly served a term in the Waukegan jail—just lately regaining his freedom but with his faith that he was right, unshaken.

It so happened that, some time ago, Mr. King was summoned to tell a special grand jury in his home town just where he received certain "graft" information he had used in news stories printed in the Daily Sun. He refused to divulge the source of his information—explaining that it was given him in confidence and he could not violate a confidence. His refusal drew him the jail sentence for contempt of court.

Mr. King, however, did not weaken. He took his sentence gracefully, content to uphold journalistic tradition. And after he took up his temporary abode in the Waukegan "cooler" he went about his journalistic tasks as usual. He wrote and edited copy in his cell, daily, maintaining communication with his newspaper office via a copy boy. At night, if the hours grew wearsome, he amused himself with a radio set which the authorities allowed him to have in his cell. Thus, you see him "keeping in touch with the outside world" in the above photograph.

An "undaunnted scribe," is right.

Crop and Weather Report of the West

—o—

WINNIPEG, July 14th—Taking the crop outlook generally, there is every reason for optimism and yields will now depend on future rainfall and damage by hail, says the weekly crop report issued by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The past week has been generally favorable from the weather and crop growing standpoint. Good progress has been made and early wheat is rapidly coming into heading stage. Heavy rains experienced over large areas in three provinces following hot weather of previous week provided moisture urgently needed by late sown crop, certain districts did not participate in this precipitation and the situation in these sections is somewhat critical.

Livestock receipts and prices continue about same as previous week. Labor supply throughout the west generally is about equal to demand.

MANITOBA, July 14th—Weather ideal, good rains during previous week end, of very much benefit, particularly to crops on light or sandy soil, where drought conditions were creating considerable hardship, but had not apparently injured the grain beyond recovery. Wheat looking healthy and strong, and has fine roots, but as yet is late. Course grains making favorable progress. If sufficient rain obtained from time to time until maturity of cereals good crops in this province seems assured. Moisture situation apparently satisfactory with exception of south-eastern district where quite a number of points small grain is reported. Corn has made wonderful growth and should develop into very satisfactory crop, alfalfa and sweet clover are also good in spite of prolonged dry spell. Hay crop likely to be light on all land, except that which is low lying. Cattle looking fine as pasture generally is good, no damage form insects, pests reported.

SASKATCHEWAN, July 14th—Crop generally making good progress, but is all a week to ten days later than average, conditions of all grains satisfactory. Much of early sown wheat coming into head and looking very promising . There has been considerable rainfall in which northwest and west central districts participated, in these sections prolonged drought period however, had worked great hardship and so depreciated crop conditions that it is doubtful if past weeks rain will materially benefit some of the crops which have suffered serious setback. Few scattered points through out eastern part of province also require rain, although crops here are not in particularly bad shape taking the province throughout, general conditions of the crop is satisfactory and should be well up to average provided rain is received at proper intervals from now on.

ALBERTA—July 14th—Weather conditions during the week are very warm, and crops using up moisture fast. Growth has been good and general prospects are decidedly satisfactory. In Southern Alberta crops show excellent promise with exception of the vacinity of Purple Springs, and east of Etzikom, where they have suffered so much from drought that they are probably beyond recovery. On the Carlston branch west of Lethbridge, on the MacLeod, Calgary and Kipp-Alderside lines, crop prospects are excellent, but could stand more rain. Probably the best looking crops in Southern Alberta are found between Taber and Lethbridge, conditions in central and northern sections continue favorable, with exception that number of points in northeast could stand heavy rainfall with advantage to crops. Cutting of alfalfa hay on irrigated land is general.

Canadian Press Party In Europe

June 27th, 1924—At the time of writing the party of Canadian journalists and ladies have just concluded a strenuous week on the continent.

The good ship "Melita" arrived at the port of Antwerp early in the morning of Saturday, June 21, after a fine passage across th Atlantic.

The first land was sighted on the evening of the 18th, when the Bishops Rock ,a lighthouse about thirty miles west of "Land's End."

At noon the following day anchor was cast in the harbour of Cherbourg. The majority of the passengers had their first view of the other side of the Atlantic. Those who were experiencing their first long sea-water trip, after they had recovered from the effects of the mal de mar, which affected many as they got out of the Gulf of the St. Lawrence, into the long swell of the Atlantic, conceived a great respect for the exploit of Christopher Columbus, who sailed the trackless waste of waters for many weeks in the attempt to prove that the earth was round and not flat—a theory scoffed at by the ecclesiastics of the period.

At Charboong a number of French passengers were disembarked by tender, amid the cheers and best wishes of those who still remained on the ship, and not a few parted with regret from friends of the opposite sex, whose acquaintance they had made on the moonlit and notoriously sentimental atmosphere of the blue ocean.

A number of the other passengers took a "business holiday" on the concluding day of the trip by editing and printing a newspaper, appropriately named "The Melita Surprise." The printing equipment of the ship was hardly suitable for publication of a newspaper, but the "Surprise" wilt form a unique and interesting souvenir of the voyage.

From Cherbourg the good ship "Melita" turned north across the waters of the English Channel, and after a pleasant five hours run arrived at Southampton, where she docked for the night.

On the morning of the 20th the passengers for England were disembarked, and advantage was taken by the Press party of an offer kindly made of a motor ride round Southampton and its environs. The visitors were much impressed by the susticity of the country within a short radious of Southampton. The spectacle of a contented English countryside is always a delight to the eye, and the drive was very much enjoyed. Southampton is a great passenger port. Many liners from various world ports make it their port of arrival and departure from England. It is beautifully located on Southampton Water, an admirable harbour protected from the channel storms by the beautiful Isle of Wight.

On Friday forenoon our ship entered on the last stage of her eastern journey, passing the great naval base of Portsmouth, where some of the most modern fighting ships—Britain's first line of defence—were lying at anchor.

The Channel was on its very best behaviour, and the coast of England was visible all the way up the channel Up and down the channel an endless stream of ships, liners, freighters, fishermen, wasters, etc. passed. On these narrow seas converge a large proportion of the world's tonnage. These are the storied seas where Drake defeated the Great Armada, Nelson held Napoleon at bay, where the Kaiser's ships met their match. Freedom's battles have been successfully fought here many times in the world's history.

The shores of England have been in view all evening and in the gathering dusk we see the white cliffs of Dover, immortalized in song and story.

Now in the North Sea we see on our right, the gleaming lights of Ostend, Zeebrugge, and other coast towns which during the great war were the scenes of furious land and water combats.

During the evening we enter the Scheldt, and in the morning dock at the great port of Antwerp. Our long Atlantic journey is over. Many part with regret from the "Melita." Capt. Clews, his officers and crew, have upheld the great traditions of the ocean, and the ship and her personnel maintain the high standard set by the Canadian Pacific Ocean services.

The Port of Antwerp will form the basis of another article.

Golf Notes

Last week's special events was the visit of three eminent Calgary golfers, Miss Mary Patrick, City lady champion of Calgary, Mr. McWilliams, champion of Alberta, and Mr. Morrison, ex-champion. Miss Patrick played 18 holes with Mr. Dunn, and was followed by an interesting gallery of ladies; Mrs. Ridley, capt., caddying for Miss Patrick on the first round, and Miss Watson, vice-capt., caddying on the second.

Her score for her first visit to the course was most creditable, 51 for 9 holes, being only eleven strokes more than Mr. McWilliams, whose best 9 was a creditable 32.

The men's game was followed with great interest by all the men in town who could manage to get to the course. Messrs Jull and Young, acting as fore-caddies, and Messrs Patrick, Hill, Knyvett, and others acting as club caddies.

The efforts of Mr. Van Tighem and Mrs. Girvin ,on behalf of the entertainment of the players were much appreciated.

Miss Patrick and Messrs McWilliams, Jull and Morrison were the guests of the President and Mrs. Patrick at dinner.

A match between teams from Gleichen and Strathmore was played on Sunday on the Strathmore links, Gleichen winning 4-6. One unfinished game was called a tie by the players who were too overcome by the heat to finish, making eleven games in all.

Tea was served in the park by ladies of the match committee at the close of the game. President Yates, of the Gleichen Club thanked the local officers and team, and especially the ladies committee in a few pleasant words, and his speech was replied to by President Patrick of the Strathmore Club, who hoped for further inter-club matches ,and called for three cheers for the Gleichen Club, which were heartily given, and as heartily responded to by the visitors.

The next event of interest will be the "Tomb-stone" foursome on Wednesday evening, July 23rd at 6.30 p.m. One prize will be offered for the best original epitaph, written by the player himself ,and a prize each for the lady and gentleman making the greatest distance in the east number of strokes. Mr. Van Tighem is secretary for this game. Do not forget to turn in one card weekly in order to get your new handicap.

Here and There

Shipments of grain from the Grande Prairie and Peace River districts over the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway during the past season have totalled 2,411,000 bushels of wheat and 1,700,000 bushels of other grains.

The longest solid train of red cedar edge grain shingles ever hauled across the continent left Vancouver, B.C., recently for Chicago and the Eastern States. Several other long trains of this product will be shipped in the near future by the Hunting Merritt Lumber Company, by whom the consignment was forwarded.

A despatch recently sent from London states that Professor Carlyle, of the E. P. ranch, is sailing for Canada shortly, taking back with him a number of brood mares and other stock for the ranch. The Prince of Wales continues to evince the deepest interest in all the doings of the ranch and keeps in close touch with things there.

RETURNS FROM BRITAIN

Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Alberta's Minister of Agriculture, returned the past week from Great Britain, where he was official representative of Alberta at the Empire Exposition at Wembly. Mr. Hoadley declares that the Canadian exhibit at Wembly was the outstanding one of the Empire, and attracted a vast amount of attention, and that Alberta had a prominent place in the composite exhibit. Mr. Hoadley spent some time in Britain, and in Denmark, Holland and elsewhere giving special attention to problems of marketing and immigration. He held several important conferences with British authorities and interests on these matters, and has brought back with him definite plans concerning marketing of grain and emigration of British settlers to Alberta which he will place before the Alberta Cabinet.

Grain Enquiry Supports Alberta Govt. Contentions

A signal victory for the Alberta Government and those who supported it in the demand for investigation by the Royal Grain Enquiry Board into certain conditions surrounding the administration of the government elevator facilities at Vancouver, is the manner in which the report of that enquiry is described in an official statement issued by the Government at Edmonton.

The report of the enquiry board, in the opinion of the Government, reveals full justification for the enquiry, and justifies particularly the contentions of the Government and others that conditions with respect to grain handling facilities at Vancouver were in an unhealthy state, and that certain radical changes were necessary in matters of policy of the control and operation of the grain elevators on the coast, in the interests of the grain producers, as those most vitally concerned, were to be fully protected.

The report makes certain valuable recommendations along lines suggested by the Alberta Government counsel, and the Government will proceed to press the federal authorities to put these recommendations into immediate effect. The Government is being supported in this by the Edmonton Board of Trade and other similar organizations.

The real issue before the enquiry board, declares the statement issued by the Alberta Government, was the administration of the grain handling facilities in such a manner as to force down the cost of handling grain, since such cost must eventually be borne by the grain producers. Alberta contended that the Pacific Elevators should be removed from control of the Vancouver Harbor Commissioners and placed under a special commission. The enquiry board has given effect to this contention by recommending that the Vancouver elevators be acquired by the Federal Government and in future be operated by a special commission or statutory body along with all other publicly owned elevators in the West. If this recommendation is put into effect the conditions which gave rise to the demand for the enquiry by the Alberta Government will be corrected.

The deal whereby the Harbor Commissioners acquired the partially completed Woodward Elevator, agreed to spend $650,000 in putting it into commission and to lease it to the British and Oriental Grain Company of Edmonton, was another matter into which the Government asked enquiry. As a result of the evidence produced in this connection, the enquiry board scores the deal as an improvident one for the harbor board and declares that there was no reason why the board should have entered into the deal. The facts, as adduced at the enquiry, were that, in the face of a report from J. S. Metcalfe and Co., elevator experts, advising the Woodward elevator to be impracticable as a public terminal, the Harbor Commission proceeded to acquire the elevator, for the express purpose of leasing it to the Edmonton company. The harbor board agreed to spend some $650,000 in putting the elevator in shape, in spite of the fact that the Metcalfe report said that the same amount, spent in modern facilities at the government elevator would produce better results. The agreement was that the harbor board was to spend this amount and lease the elevator to the Edmonton company at a rate not exceeding 9 per cent. on the amount of the bonds, but the enquiry board reports that it is very uncertain whether the amount to be paid by the Edmonton company will meet the full interest charges on the money spent by the harbor board. The report declares the whole deal to be an improvident one for the people of Canada.

The other points upon which the Alberta Government asked investigation, and the action of the enquiry board on these points, are as follows:

The Maharg by-spout at the terminal elevator, by which grain could be diverted in its progress from the car to the elevator weigh bins, was shown by the weight of evidence to be an improper installation and one which should not be permitted to exist. It was shown that the legislatures of several of the States absolutely forbade the existence of such a spout. The enquiry board declared that the by-spout should be removed entirely, and positive regulations should be enacted making such installations with their consequent perils and suspicions, impossible in any storage elevator.

The personnel of the Vancouver elevator staff, and the influence exerted by the firm of Smith and Buchanan, or by Smith, a former grain operator at Fort William, in the appointments to this staff. Smith, it may be said, was implicated in certain suspicious deals while operating at the head of the lakes, and very close connection between him and the harbor commissioner R. P. Bentley, and certain members of the elevator staff, was shown. The enquiry board says in this connection that there was no specific evidence of any evil resulting from such close connection, but whatever the facts were, there could be no doubt that the close relationship had given rise to a feeling of dissatisfaction and uneasiness in many quarters, and had a great deal to do with creating the demand for the investigation. Anything which would foster a suspicious relationship should be avoided, says the report.

In the matter of the alleged overshipment of 232,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern Wheat from the government elevators ,the enquiry board reports that it was unable to clear up this discrepancy and proper officials of the Grain Commission. The report further states that the practice of shipping grain on bills of lading instead of warehouse receipts is irregular and presents elements of danger, and it states also that there was apparently no good reason why receipts to the total of 12,500,000 bushels should have been allowed to accumulate without cancellation.

The board also finds a very unsatisfactory condition with respect to the handling of sweepings of grain in the elevators, these sweepings being collected and disposed of in a very irregular manner.

With respect to the attempt of the Harbor Commissioner to increase cargo rates on grain, which increase the Alberta Government was successful in having suspended, the enquiry board has this comment to make "A cargo rate is levied for the general service of the port and should not fluctuate with the success or failure of the Harbor Commissioners' adventures in terminal elevators."

ALBERTA COAL FOR ONTARIO

It is expected that the plan to market 100,000 tons of Alberta coal in Ontario the coming season will mature as a result of the vote of $200,000 by the Federal Government will pay charges above the actual cost of handling the coal in train lots during the slack season in traffic. Many centres in Ontario have already placed preliminary orders for Alberta coal.
